

Fantastic Feasts and Where to Find Them [SOLUTION]

The title and formatting of the puzzles hints that each set is a category of feasts and we are given their associated location and often some additional unlabelled information. The category title aids in determining what is common within that feast. In addition the flavor text hints at finding what is common amongst each feast - within each feast, exactly one letter is shared between all the items.

The first feast is a set of paintings: Cakes, Supper Time, Campbell's Soup Cans, and Nighthawks. Common letter is S.

The second feast is a set of Michelin Restaurants: Hertog Jan, La Maison Troisgros, Sant Pau, and De Leest. Common letter is T.

The third feast is a set of Caltech Dining Entities: Chandler Cafe, The Athenaeum, The Cafe at Broad, and Ernie's. Common letter is E.

The fourth feast is a set of national dishes for countries: Ema Datshi, Gallo Pinto, Seswaa, and Sadza. Common letter is A.

The fifth and final feast is a set of world records for the largest of various foods: Pumpkin, Roast Pork, Pancake, Milkshake. Common letter is K.

As the flavor text suggests, we want to find what is common within each set of words. We notice that in each set, exactly one letter is in every word in that set. Taking those letters spells STEAK, an entree at Chipotle Mexican Grill.
